Modification of 510 Spadina bus replacement on weekday afternoons

Starting Monday, July 8, the TTC will modify the 510 bus replacement service on Spadina Avenue to improve reliability for customers navigating afternoon gridlock and congestion on the south end of the route.

From 3 p.m. to 7 p.m., Monday to Friday (only), 510 Spadina buses will no longer operate on Spadina Avenue between Front Street West and Queen's Quay West. During these hours, buses will instead turn left on Front Street and then right on Blue Jays Way, looping around back to Spadina Avenue to go north to Spadina Station. There will be no 510 Spadina service during these hours at stops on Spadina Avenue at Fort York Boulevard/Bremner Boulevard and at Queen's Quay West

During the afternoon rush hour, southbound bus operators will announce the turn, allowing customers to exit the bus and continue their journey south on foot. Customer service representatives and TTC supervisors will be available at the new stops and key locations in the area to assist with direction and with accommodating accessibility needs.

New stop markers will be placed on the south side of Front Street East of Spadina Avenue to offload southbound customers and on the north side of Blue Jays Way east of Spadina Avenue for customers wanting to travel north.

The TTC will continue to monitor route performance and is looking at other possible improvements and modifications.

During this time, as alternatives to the 510 Spadina replacement bus, customers can opt for the 511 Bathurst streetcar and Line 1 subway for north-south travel, which will connect them to east-west routes on College Street, Dundas Street West, Queen Street West and King Street West.

Thank you for your patience as we work to improve transit infrastructure in Toronto.
